From a reference June 4th, 2012:

"Leon is one of the most proactive, organized and high-capacity team members I have ever had. He is very knowledgeable about a lot of things right out of the gate, but also has an uncanny ability to get up to speed on new domains or subject matters very quickly. If you have specific concerns or questions, you can send them along, and I can get back to you with specific answers. That being said, I have no doubt that he would hit a home run as a "Manager of IS". Personally, if I were looking for a VP/Director level resource for an Information Systems position, I would have no hesitation considering Leon, so I sincerely doubt that you will be anything less than completely satisfied with Leon for your current position."

"Anything I say about Leon will always be less because he has been the best Boss I worked with so far. From day one, he offered his support in my new role and responsibilities. Leon is always there to offer advice and his wisdom as I come across situations I haven't faced with before.

Leon has been a great mentor and a strong leader and always demonstrated outstanding leadership qualities in directing the Information Technology Group team.

Am always amazed with the energy levels and the innovative ideas he exhibits day in and day out at the work place. Given a chance, would love to work with him again."
